

Health.mil is the official website of the Military Health System. It is designed with several audiences in mind: Military Health System leaders, medical teams, communicators and members of the media, Congressional offices, and other key stakeholders.

The site features a dynamic, user-friendly interface supported by a centralized content management system which simplifies customization. This makes it easier for administrators to maintain a consistent look across the platform and ensure accuracy and currency.

The Web & Mobile Technology Program Management Office, in collaboration with the MHS Communications and Public Affairs Division, is responsible for all aspects of development and maintenance of Health.mil.
