CME Registration Instructions:

In order to receive CME credit for the Distance Learning (dL) modules you must first complete a one-time enrollment at the Air Force CME site:

https://education.mods.army.mil/airforcecme/

1. If you already have an Army or Air Force CME login, you may use this to register for the JMESI dL modules at the Air Force CME site through the red "Registration" button. Enter "JMESI" in the top blank box and "SEARCH". Click on the blue highlighted name "JMESI Distance learning Modules" and on "Click here to Register for this activity".

2. If you do NOT have an Army or Air Force login, click on "Members portal/Print Certificates". Then click on "Request login". Complete all areas in RED and click "Submit". Your User Name will pop up.

Once you have an Air Force login ID, go back to the above link, click on "Registration". At this point your User Name and password are the same. The site will then ask you to change your password. Once you are logged in:

Enter "JMESI' in the top blank box and "SEARCH". Click on the blue highlighted name "JMESI Distance learning Modules" and on "Click here to register for this activity".

NOTES:

There are two Certificates provided:

1. Upon completing a JMESI module you will receive a certificate of completion from JKO.

2. To obtain your CME certificate. Follow the steps below:

- Go to:

https://education.mods.army.mil/airforcecme/

- Click on "Members Portal/Print Certificates.

- Complete your end of course evaluation.

- Complete all areas in RED.

- Self-report the total number of modules that you completed. You will then have the ability to print your own certificate.