Q: SHOULD I GET A COVID-19 VACCINE IF I’M CURRENTLY PREGNANT?

A: Talk with your health care provider to help you decide if you should get a COVID-19 vaccine.

Clinical trials evaluating the safety and efficacy of COVID-19 vaccines may offer data and outcomes in the future.

The CDC has a smartphone tool called v-safe. It offers personalized health check-ins that you can enroll in after a vaccination.